NOTES FROM WINSTON.

Important Cases Before Criminal Court—Stolen Horse Recovered.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov 10—The case against Tom Reed, Bob Cobler and Tom Hudson, for the murder of Dee Brinkley on September 12th, was called in criminal court this morning. Up to the noon recess three witnesses for the state were examined. Jones & Patterson are assisting Solicitor Griffith in the prosecution. The defendants are represented by able counsel.

The jury in the infanticide case against Florence Butner has not yet reached a verdict. The case went to the jury at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

J. W. Griffith, of the Kernersville section, has recovered his horse which was stolen from him last week. The animal was found yesterday near Rural Hall, and the thief arrested in Mount Airy. He plead guilty and was committed to jail in this city.

Strike Began.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Fall River, Mass, Nov. 10—The start of what promises to be an extensive strike took place today when four of the leading textile unions voted to go out unless their demands are accepted by the cotton mill owners. It is likely that evry cotton mill in the city will be tied up unless a settlement is reached in a short time.

Cat and Dog Life.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 10—Geo. W. Kern, proprietor of the Hotel Mecca, shot his wife this morning and then killed himself. A cat and dog life had been led by them for several years, on account of the jealousy of the husband. Two hundred mill operatives saw the shooting.

BOERS WILL SURELY SHOOT.

Did They Disregard a Flag of Truce?

THE BOMBARDMENT CONTINUES.

British Entrenchments Daily Growing Stronger and Provisions Ample, Says General Buller.

By Cable to the TELEGRAM.

London, Nov 10—The war office has today received a dispatch from Gen. Buller, dated at Cape Town, Nov. 9, received by Pigeon Post, which says: While the bombardment continues daily and is a long struggle, the casualties are few and no serious harm has been done.

The Boers sent in today a number of refugees from Transvaal under a flag of truce. The British met them under a flag of truce outside the pickets, and when the parties separated the Boer guns fired on the British party before they reached the picket lines.

Gen. Buller's dispatch further states that the British entrenchments are daily growing stronger and that provisions are ample.

MORE MEN ARRIVE.

Cape Town, Nov. 10—The transport Moore, with officers and three divisions of the army corps, arrived this morning. A succession of transports are coming which means that the war will begin in earnest.

GAME IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Partridges Plentiful—Where Good Shooting May Be Had.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 24—The shooting season in this state begins November 1. It is safe to say that not in many years have there been more partridges. It was feared by many persons that the extreme cold weather and the deep snow last February would destroy them. The birds are in all that part of the state east of the Blue Ridge and extending to the tier of counties bordering the sounds. From Danville to Greensboro, thence as far west as Morganton and eastward to Goldsboro there are birds in abundance. Granville county offers good sport, and so does Person.

The legislature, at its last session, enacted a law for a number of counties, requiring hunters to have the written permission of landowners when hunting on the latters' lands. This was aimed at "pot hunters." In parts of the state, mainly in the High Point and Hickory sections, northern sportsmen, to a very large extent, pay the taxes on the lands and have all the privileges. East of Guilford county this is not done. The large landowners make things particularly pleasant for sportsmen.

Sportsmen from the Baltimore section will find good shooting in Randolph county. It is evident that the plan of securing hunting rights by paying the comparatively trifling taxes on lands will be widely extended.—Special to Baltimore Sun.

FEELING AGGRAVATED.

The Result in Kentucky is Still in Doubt.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Louisville, Nov. 10—Courier-Journal returns at 2 o'clock this morning from the entire state except 35 precincts give Goebel a net plurality of 941. Ten of the missing precincts are democratic and the others are republican. The tables include a number of precincts reported estimated. The Commercial (rep.) returns at the same hour gives Taylor a net plurality of 3,4?8.

The state of feeling between the factions is aggravated rather than allayed by the developments since Tuesday. Excited meetings are being held in many parts of the state to protest the frauds as alleged. It is contemplated by the leaders that only the official count will determine the result, which will be followed by a contest before the legislature.

Bloody Outbreak Expected.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Middleboro, Ky., Nov. 10—The authorities here are indignant because the governor has not responded to the request for troops to quell the disturbances over the election count. A bloody outbreak is expected at any moment and it is feared it will occur at the canvass of the Pineville vote today.

Tannery Plant Burned.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Boston, Nov. 10—A serious fire broke out in the leather district at Woburn this morning. The entire tannery plant of Beggs & Cobb, valued at $75,000, was burned, and the adjoining factories of the Stepen Dowe Co. are threatened.

Manila, Nov. 10—General Wheaton has surprised the Filipinos along the shores of Gulf Lingayan. He landed his men at an unexpected point and established a basis before the insurgents could be got together.

THE CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

The Efforts of the Ladies' Aid Society a Complete Success.

"Nothing succeeds like success" "When she will, she will, you may depend upon it." The ladies of the West Market Aid Society have verified this old adage in their efforts in behalf of the chrysanthemum show, which opened up with glowing prospects on yesterday and is being continued today in the Odd Fellows building on West Market street.

The exhibits, to say nothing of the all important menu, have been the source of much complimentary remark, and the fancy work deserves especial mention, for it is truly a work of art as to quality, and taste in arrangement.

The patronage during the whole of yesterday and today was fully up to all expectations, and we bespeak for the ladies a continuance of the same for tonight.

The Greensboro Female College girls were down in full force yesterday afternoon, and several repeated the experiment today. A number of the Normal girls also attended this afternoon.

The exhibits are in charge of Mesdames Frank Trogdon, J. Ed. Albright. Dr. Whitsett and J. N. Leak, while the "substantials" are under the management of Mesdames H B Tatum, E. C. Watlington, Dorsett and others, who will be more than glad to serve you tonight for supper and other delicacies till eleven o'clock.

To Investors.

Investors, as well as parties looking for home sites, are invited to go out and inspect the lots to be sold on the Vanbokelin addition Monday next.

The city is growing, and growing westward. The Vanbokelin land is in every respect desirable, and directly in the wake of improvements.

Five years ago the new road was cut from the Normal College to Pomona, since then every foot of the land along this road has been sold out, some of it resold more than once, at advanced figures. The Battle Ground avenue has been recently graded, and the property along and adjacent to this thoroughfare is already rapidly selling, and in the near future parties desiring property here, must pay a good round profit to the wise man who buys now.

The last sale of this year will be made on Monday next, the 13th, at 2 o'clock p. m.

THE ELECTIONS FORETELL

That It Will be McKinley and Bryan Again.

MR. BUTLER IN WASHINGTON

Looking After Census Appointments. He Definitely Avows Opposition to the Amendment.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, Nov. 10—Whatever else the elections of this fall foretell, the impression among democrats and republicans in Washington is that it signifies that both McKinley and Bryan will be the standard bearers of their respective parties in 1900. All gossip concerning the defeat of the president for renomination has been set aside. As to Bryan, however, while no one seriously believes that the coming democratic national convention can be turned aside from him as their leader, there is, as reported the other day considerable talk among the element in the democratic party who are not so devoted to the silver issue, that there is a lesson in the Maryland result. They claim that it proves that when silver is not an issue in the campaigns in the doubtful states, that the democrats can win. With Bryan as the leader, they say that the campaign in Maryland will not be so easy a victory. Those who take this view of the political situation, however, are not very numerous. A Maryland democrat of some prominence, stated Thursday afternoon that the campaign in Maryland, more than in any other state in the union perhaps, was fought on national issues The president's course in the Philippines was one of the main issues, and although silver did not figure prominently in the campaign, still to a certain extent it did enter into the contests, and the gold democrats, so called, were lined up almost to a man, in opposition to the democratic nominee on the theory that the election of a democratic governor would be an encouragement to Bryan. Reasoning in this manner the gentleman referred to sees in the victory in Maryland an endorsement of Col. Bryan, and he says he will get the delegation from that state next year.

There is much talk concerning the recent statement alleged to have been made by Senator Daniel, of Virginia. The statement was to the effect that if Ohio and Kentucky both went democratic, that it would, or ought to, set Bryan in the list of eligibles at the next democratic convention. The senator from Virginia is not now in Washington, but he is a silver man, and has been since that issue became prominent in the politics of the country. It cannot be stated positively that the senator did not make the statement attributed to him, but his friends in this city say most emphatically that they do not believe he did. Senator Daniel is a friend of Bryan, and has been since the latter was in congress.

Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, is in Washington for a few days on some business of importance to his state, mainly in looking after appointments in the census and other bureaus. The senator stated to newspaper men who have seen him that he is opposed to the proposed constitutional amendment to limit suffrage in the state This is the first definite avowal the senator has made of his intention not to support the amendment. Heretofore he has been non-committal on the subject, and it has rather been the belief that he, as the head of his party in the state of North Carolina, would advise the members of the populist party to vote for the amendment. It is said that the declaration of Butler will place the populists in the state almost unanimously in opposition to the amendment. Both of the North Carolina senators are now on record openly against the passage of the amendment.

Democrats from North Carolina are confident that the amendment will pass by an overwhelming majority. The election does not occur until next August. It is claimed that the republican vote for the passage of the amendment will be very large.

Senator Butler expressed the opinion the other day that there would be considerable work during the coming congress of importance to the south. Among other legislation he looks for the passage of a river and harbor bill early during the coming winter, and as the southern states are well represented on the river and harbor committees of both houses, there is not much doubt but the works commenced by the last congress will be continued

The opinion is strong among southern congressmen in Washington that there will be some kind of legislation concerning the construction of the Nicaraguan canal next session. Senator Morgan, it is said, may prepare a bill which he will ask the senate and house to adopt.

A dispatch from Washington yesterday says the war department "definitely located Aguinaldo today as on his way to the town of Boambang." That's good. The solons at Washington [illegible] what [illegible] proceed and [illegible] some Filipino [illegible]

The Associated Press dispatches in the morning papers regarding the Kentucky election begin with the statement: "A confusion of claims and counter claims, to quiet which the official count or perhaps a contest before the legislature will be necessary, is all that is left of Tuesday's election." Both sides, however, are vehemently claiming the victory and charges of fraud are freely indulged in.

The headline of an article in the Post says that Pritchard and Butler are in the same boat on the amendment question. Nothing strange about that. They have been in the same canoe before. They discarded the principles of their respective parties and hung together in the fusion bateau that landed them both in the senate. The boat they are in at this time is the same old affair they used before, but it is too rickety and weatherbeaten now to stand the current and will be dashed to pieces.

Dewey and Schley. The two ideals of American heroism and bravery. The papers are full of them every day. The last mention of them is that Dewey is married and Schley is going to sea. It is announced that the latter has been appointed commander of the South Atlantic station and it is left to his discretion whether he will proceed to South Africa. The hero of Manila, being newly married, will probably settle down in his new Washington home, at least for a while. With a new wife and a new home and a comfortable income, work or play, he is better fixed than if he were president.

How does Mr. Bryan stand in Kentucky? Now after that fight is over it is apparent that he did the party there no good, and we shall see whether he has thereby strengthened his own cause.

We learn that pastor W. H. H. Lawhon, of Chatham county, has been called to the pastorate of the Cherry Street church of Greensboro. We have not heard whether or not he has accepted.—Charity and Children.

The Telegram is glad to see the above item. We know Mr. Lawhon to be a most faithful and zealous man. Aside from being a good preacher he is a man of some note, having been a brave captain in the war between the states. He was a member of the legislature of 1897. Charity and Children is mistaken about his being from Chatham, however. He is from Moore, and lives about six miles from Carthage. We hope he will accept the call.

Congressman Linney replies, or attempts to reply, to Hon. Thomas Settle's letter in a three-column article in the Charlotte Observer this morning. After a careful reading of the lengthy and wordy document we regard it as a complete fudge. He calls Mr. Settle's argument an "awkward makeshift for a powerful, young and ambitious man." He then relates an awful picture of two men shut up in a cage, planning some kind of rascality to beat and defraud their enemies. Mr. Linney is a smart man, of much more ability than his letter would indicate. The weakness of his cause accounts, in large measure, for his apparent evasion of the terse questions asked him by Mr. Settle.

CLEVELAND HAS A HARD TIME.

Goes to Wrong Polling Place and is Roughly Admonished.

Grover Cleveland, ex-president of the United States, found peculiar difficulty this morning in exercising his right of franchise.

He was obliged to stand in line for a long time only to have his vote refused because he had gone to the wrong polling place. When he went to the proper booth he was ordered away and roughly admonished by a town official.

In the first place, Mr. Cleveland had trouble in finding the proper place to cast his vote. According to the local arrangements, there was a first and a second place for voting, half the residents of the town being registered in one place and the other half at the second one.

About 10 o'clock in the morning Mr. Cleveland drove leisurely down to the polls at Odd Fellows' Hall. Alighting from his carriage, he found a long file of voters ahead of him, and there was no recourse, but to take his place among a motley crowd of townspeople, students and negroes, where he patiently awaited his time to cast his ballot.

The novelty of the situation soon brought a throng of people, including college men, who stood by and enjoyed [illegible]. When, after a long [illegible], Mr. Cleveland reached the b[illegible] [illegible] looking up, asked: [illegible]?

[illegible]

Brady looked up with a start.

"Beg your pardon," he said, "but you are not registered here."

Mr. Cleveland turned and left. He laughed good-naturedly as he walked to his carriage. The crowd followed him as he drove to Chambers street, where the second polling place was situated.

Loud cheering greeted Mr. Cleveland there as he walked towards the polls with determined face. Walking into the building, he stopped a moment to talk with a fellow resident of the town, and was recounting his vicissitudes at the other polling place. Just then Peter Mehan, the town constable, who was clearing the space between the railings leading up to the polls, said in a loud voice:

"You will have to get out of here, my man. This place is meant for voters, and we can't have any loafers hanging about, blocking up the passage. Move along, move along."

A wild roar of laughter broke from the crowd at the constable, who evidently did not recognize Mr. Cleveland. The expresident pushed forward and was allowed to cast his ballot without further hindrance. There were more cheers for Mr. Cleveland as he entered his carriage and drove away. At last he had voted.—Princeton, N. J., Dispatch, 7th, to Baltimore Sun.

The Poet Burns,

Not the least of the advantages attending life assurance is the serenity of mind which attends the provident man lying on a bed of sickness, or when he is in prospect of death—so unlike that painful anxiety for the future welfare of the family not provided for. The poet Burns, in writing to a friend a few days before his death, said that he was "still the victim of affliction. Alas! Clark, I begin to fear the worst. Burns' poor widow and a half a dozen of his dear little ones; helpless orphans: [illegible] in [illegible]. Enough, [illegible] 'tis half of my disease!"

"If you would escape the rock upon which the lamented Burns split;" take shelter from the storm that is bound to spend its fury upon you when the fatal summons comes, by at once securing the magnetic contract offered by the Provident Savings.

Say They Did It.

It has been taken for granted in this country and in the world at large that Hobson and the daring spirits with him accomplished this feat, but the highest authority in Spain now tells us that the Merrimac was really sunk by the Colon and the water batteries at the entrance of the harbor. It is definitely stated that the Spaniards put a shot through the Merrimac's steering apparatus, and we believe that Lieutenant Hobson said so in his report. But it does not appear how this could have sunk the boat. It may be that the sinking of the Merrimac was to some extent a work of collaboration, but the Hobson version of the occurrence will certainly continue to be accepted as the true one by the people of this country. If the Spaniards find any consolation in the fact that they contributed to what Hobson was trying to do, let us not begrudge them whatever they can get out of that consideration.—Atlanta Journal.

Bloody Affray at the Races.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 9—A bloody fight occurred on the Newport track this afternoon just before the last race was run. Dan Murray, the well known race caller, was attacked by Curley Brown, formerly starter at the track, and badly beaten. The trouble is the result of an old grudge which sprung up between Murray and Brown on the Canadian circuit last summer. Murray is in a serious condition at his hotel in this city. Brown left the track after the affair, but later was taken into custody and put under bonds.

WOMEN'S SECRETS.

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over thirty years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, and the honor paid him by the profession as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. Every woman's letter which contains her secret remains her secret. It is read in private, answered in private, and its contents guarded as a sacred confidence. That no third party should enter into this secret, all replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, with out any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE ENGINEER WAS ASLEEP.

The Cause of a Terrible Collision on the Southern.

Toccoa, Ga, Nov. 9—A head-end collision occurred on the Southern Railway here tonight, both freight trains. Train No. 43, south-bound, ran into extra No. 365, north-bound, an extra which was made up at Toccoa for Greenville, S. C.

Conductor Fayoux, on the south-bound, was considerably bruised up. Flagman Homer Gary was cut in the back of the head; Flagman Hughes had his back wrenched, and a negro fireman was cut in the back of the head. The crew on extra No. 385 was not hurt. The engines were new and were completely ruined. The engineer on the south-bound was asleep and running his locomotive at the speed of 60 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

It Will be Ratified.

Ex-Representative Thomas Settle, of North Carolina, advises his fellow-republicans of that state to abandon opposition to the proposed amendment disfranchising the ignorant negro vote. He sees insurmountable obstacles to the plan to test the constitutionality either of the new election law, under which the amendment is to be voted on, or the amendment itself. He assumes that the latter will be ratified, and suggests that the republicans disregard the amendment and make their campaign on sound money, protection, and support of the administration's foreign policy.—New York Evening Post.

The Negro in Maryland.

Baltimore, Nov. 9—It is stated today that a bill will be presented to the legislature, having for its object the disfranchising, through the submission of a constitutional amendment for an educational or property qualification for suffrage, a large proportion of the negro vote. The best Democratic lawyers have been engaged in the task of preparing a bill which will operate best in the interest of the Democratic party and will stand the test of the constitution.

A REINCARNATED DOG.

He Hadn't Lost His Human Traits In the Process.

"You can't tell me there is nothing in the theory of reincarnation," remarked a traveling man, "for I know there is. I was down in Florida recently, and in St. Augustine I saw a snob dog—an out and out snob. His name is Towser, and he is just a common yellow dog, lives in the street and belongs to no one.

"In the summer, when no wealthy northern people are in the town, he plays with all the middle class children and dogs and will greet patronizingly the middle class men and women who know him. But in the winter, as soon as the season begins, he attaches himself to some rich New York family, loafs in their yard, tags their footsteps or carriages all about the city, attends them to church and home again and so far as he is able makes himself one of them. For his meals he has been forced to resort to the back yards of a plain, good woman, who pities him and feeds him regularly. He is friendly with her at his eating hours, but never so far forgets himself as to wag his tail at her on the street or when he is with more pretentious people.

"When society functions take place in St. Augustine, there is Towser. Golf matches, afternoon teas, picnics or boating parties, all are attended by him with most conventional regularity. He never greets any ordinary acquaintance when thus socially engaged and has even been known not to eat for several days when a fashionable wedding was on his mind. With the swell dogs of St. Augustine Towser never has any rows, having, no doubt, studied the politic art of being agreeable, but with commoner cuts he is irritable and defensive. That dog has been human in his time, and I'd give a penny to know who he was."—Indianapolis Journal.

AMONG THE CANNIBALS.

A Traveler's Experience With the Man Eaters of West Africa.

Mr. P. A. McCann has had 19 years' actual residence in west Africa. Mr. McCann's seven years' trading and residence with the cannibal tribes of the French Gaboon probably form the most exciting part of his experiences. He got friendly with them and thoroughly studied their habits and customs. They quite believed that the white men ate white men as they themselves eat their fellow blacks. A big chief offered Mr. McCann the smoked thigh of a native. This was considered a gracious act. To refuse it would be unfriendly. Mr. McCann was in a dilemma.

But he feigned illness, said he was not eating just then. The chief eventually put the matter off good naturedly by saying he supposed the white man preferred white man to eat instead of black man. "The Mpongwes," said Mr. McCann, "are in ferocious and pugnacious qualities second to no other tribe in Africa. Their villages mostly consist of a single street from 600 to 1,500 yards long, on each side of which are the houses. In these houses they cook, eat and sleep and keep their store of provisions, the chief of which is smoked game and smoked human flesh, hung up to the rafters.

"Although ferocious and quarrelsome to a degree, they are very industrious. They show considerable skill in the manufacture of pottery, and the designs of their cooking pots, water jars, tobacco pipes and palm wine bottles are extremely artistic. In ironwork they are also skillful workers. Although they kill game for food, they much prefer human meat to any other."—London Globe.

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist. Guaranteed.

MECKLENBURG'S ROAD LAW.

Justice Clarke Compliments It, in Rendering His Decision.

Durham, Nov 8—The decision of the lower court in the case of State vs. F. M. Sharp, of this county, has been affirmed by the supreme court. The opinion of the court in this case was rendered by Judge Walter Clark, in which he took occasion to criticize the present road law and complimented Mecklenburg county's law. In part he said:

"It is a matter of common knowledge that the system of working the public roads by conscription of labor is expensive, wasteful and inefficient. It perhaps was suited to a former age, when roads were little used, when labor could be furnished without inconvenience by any able-bodied man to do the little work required, and money was a scarce commodity. Because of its inefficiency and possibly from a growing conviction of the injustice of the system and the increasing inequality under the present conditions of the burdens laid by working the roads under that system, there has been a steady growth of legislation (beginning with Mecklenburg county, in which so many progressive methods have started), away from the old-system, and in the direction of having been worked by taxation. The present stage of public sentiment, varying in different counties and even townships, is doubtless fairly represented by the variant provisions of the act now before us. It is in the power of future legislatures to extend its provisions at their will till the roads shall be worked entirely by taxation throughout the State, but that is a matter which rests with the legislative department of the government."

The Cruel Knife!

It is absolutely useless to expect a surgical operation to cure cancer, or any other blood disease. The cruelty of such treatment is illustrated in the alarming number of deaths which result from it. The disease is in the blood, and hence can not be cut out. Nine times out of ten the surgeon's knife only hastens death.

My son had a most malignant Cancer, for which the doctors said an operation was the only hope. The operation was a severe one, as it was necessary to cut down to the jawbone and scrape it. Before a great while the Cancer returned, and began to grow rapidly. We gave him many remedies without relief, and finally, upon the advice of a friend, decided to try S. S. S. (Swift's Specific), and with the second bottle he began to improve. After twenty bottles had been taken, the Cancer disappeared entirely, and he was cured. The cure was a permanent one, for he is now seventeen years old, and has never had a sign of the dreadful disease to return.

Absolutely the only hope for Cancer is Swift's Specific, as it is the only remedy which goes to the very bottom of the blood and forces out every trace of the disease. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral.

James Reed Injured.

Mr. James Reed struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave it any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Ore Hill Mine.

We regret to hear that work has been suspended at the iron mine at Ore Hill. It is said that the iron ore there has been exhausted, or cannot be obtained in sufficient quantity to have it mined profitably.

This is greatly to be regretted, as it has always been said that there was an inexhaustible quantity of iron ore at that place. It seems that there was no regular vein, but only "pockets" or small deposits of iron ore scattered about in the hill

A deposit of iron ore was developed to some extent on the farm of Mr Manson Johnson, about four miles east of Ore Hill, but it was rather far from the railroad to be successfully mined.—Chatham Record.

LAST NIGHT'S OPERA.

The Herald Square Company Play "Chimes of Normandy."

The academy of music contained a very small audience last night to see the Herald Square Opera Company's rendition of that splendid opera, "The Chimes of Normandy." The players were thus greatly handicapped, as the needed inspiration of a crowded and enthusiastic house was lacking. Their coming had only been advertised a day or two. They deserve a better recognition than they received.

The voices are well trained and critics are agreed that the music was rendered in first-class style. Miss Etta Stetson as Germaine carried her role well and her voice is as sweet as a silver chime. Miss May Glover as Serpolette was also good. Her voice is a strong soprano and especially good in carrying a high note.

Harry Nelson, as Jean Greniceux, the fisherman, played his part well. He has a good tenor, very strong and penetrating. George Williams played the part of Gaspard, the miser, a hard role, but he handled it pretty well His make-up was good. Thos Callahan, as the Baillie had the comic end of the opera and made a hit.

Tonight this company will play "Said Pasha," and it is hoped will have a full house.

Thanks, Ladies

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the good ladies who are managing the chrysanthemum show, for a large waiter filled with choice and palatable eatables which they sent to this print shop yesterday evening; also for another one this afternoon loaded with delicious cream and cake. To say the least, we feel very grateful to these ladies, and hope that their laudable efforts may be crowned with abundant success.

Let's Invite the Convention.

As stated elsewhere State Secretary Knebel, of the Y. M. C. A., is in the city. He speaks encouragingly of the next state convention, which, however, is some months off yet. It is to be held in the spring, March, we believe The place of meeting is to be selected by the executive committee. Let's extend an invitation to the committee to hold the next meeting in Greensboro.

Safe Blown Open.

News reached Greensboro Wednesday afternoon that a safe robbery occurred at Hillsboro some time Tuesday night, but no particulars were given. The office of Sheriff John R. Hughes was entered and the safe blown open. About $5,000 in cash was taken. One thousand dollars of the amount taken was in twenty-dollar gold pieces. No clue has been obtained as to the identity of the guilty parties.

[illegible] OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT.

The Great Comic Opera, "Said Pasha."

The Herald Square opera company will present an opera tonight new to Greensboro, but which has been a great hit this past year or so

"Said Pasha" is brimful of catchy airs, pretty dances, tuneful solos, duettst ensembles and fun fast and furious, of a bright and wholesome class. In Lynchburg, a few weeks ago, this company scored such a hit in the opera that they remained another night by request.

Harry Bates plays the Pasha and May Glover his daughter Serena; Miss Etta Stetson sings the role of Alti—queen of Altari—a rather difficult part, but one well suited to such a sweet voice and wide range.

The two vagabonds, Hadad and Nockey, his companion, the merrymakers, are cleverly handled by Callahan and Williams.

Harry Nelson, the leading tenor, and the special dances by the Dempsey sisters, are also highly complimented by the Lynchburg News.

This will be the last high class opera company visiting us for some time, and to-night's opportunity should not be missed.

Mr. Conwell's Lecture.

The lectures, "Acres of Diamonds," "Lessons of Travel," and "Heroism of a Private Life," are models of lyceum lectures. Mr. Conwell is a thinker and a scholar, and never descends to silliness on the platform, but his audience laughed until they were sore, at some of his apparently natural wit and humorous turns Thus far his lectures here have been rare combinations of wit and important information, told with great skill and descriptive power.—Springfield (Mass) Union.

Logical, entertaining, humorous and original, it is not remarkable that the engagements of this able and talented lecturer are constantly multiplying.—Boston Transcript.

Mr. Conwell gives "Acres of Diamonds" at the Normal College on Monday night.

The Whyness of the Thusness.

For the past ten days mechanical troubles have beset the Telegram thick and fast. First, the gas engine refused to do its duty, causing the paper to be late several nights. When the driving pinion of the press broke and a new one had to be ordered. In the meantime the inking apparatus went crazy and had print as the result. Friends, be patient as possible, and the defects will be remedied as speedily as possible.

THE TWO MASTERS.

Dr. Smith Contrasted them in His Sermon Last Night.

Reported for The Telegram.

Dr. Smith's sermon at the First Presbyterian church last night was from the text in Joshua 24:15. "Choose you this day whom you will serve"

A few night ago Dr. Smith preached a sermon on the same text, in which he urged the unconverted to make the choice honestly, inteligently, immediately, etc. In the sermon last night he contrasted the two masters. "There are two services, two masters; we are all servants of one or the other God requires service, he asks you to enlist in his army. Enlist for life; the service, however, is for eternity.

We are not willing to admit ourselves servants of the devil. But we are all servants either of God or the devil. So long as you serve satan and do just as he wants you to do, you will not realize that you are his servant, but just try to go another way and you will surely feel his curb Both services offer rewards. The service of the world has its pleasures, has its rewards to offer. The service of God has its pleasures and rewards The sinner is not asked to give up the pleasures and rewards of the world for nothing. The blessed Lord will give you more than you lose He will require denials but the blessings he gives in return counterbalance all that He offers rewards not only for this life but for the life to come. There is no comparison between the services The one is ennobling; the other degrading. It makes no difference how rich or cultured a person may be, or how evenly and smoothly their lives may seem to be, yet if he serves the world, underneath the shining enamel there is sure to be something coarse. It is doubtful if there is anything more godless than gilded looseness. Service of the world is debasing because it has the wrong foundation. Service of God is elevating and uplifting The journey of God's servants is upward. The devil offers reward for time only God's for time and eternity. When the death curtain falls on the servant of the world the lights are out and all is over. The pleasure of the one pall on the taste, while the other grows The pleasures of the world are delightful at first, but delight less as we grow older. The things that please us when children please no longer. They pall with use and stale with custom. Christ's blessings are enhanced with coming years. The outward man may perish, but the inward man is renewed every day. Then choose Christ for your master and choose you this night.

Preaching tonight at 7:30

are made more beautiful by perfect fitting corsets. That is the kind we want to tell you about.

A conventional, woodeny corset will spoil the effect of the most beautiful gown.

KABO CORSETS

enhance each charm of a perfect figure. You don't have to "break them in." They fit at the start, they fit ever after. Their designer knows the corset needs of American women perfectly. If you were blindfolded and a Kabo Corset was put on you, you could not tell by the "feel," the difference between it and the most expensive importation.

Kabo No 352 has become immensely popular. Long waist, medium form, satine, 2 bone strip. Colors, white, drab, black. It gives the figure a fascinating contour and easy grace of line so much sought after. Price $1.00 Many Kabo styles to choose from.

They have no brass eyelets to cut the lacing or corrode and discolor the undergarments.

By special arrangement with the manufacturers of the "KABO" Corsets, their expert fitter
